

Youth and Adults Are Invited to the Lakeside-Santee 4-H Club Benefit Dance

LANGLOIS on the air

The time has arrived when everyone of us must stop for a moment and take a view of where we are heading. When the government begins to call in reservists, when friends of ours stationed in Guam and other islands write to ask us what is going on as they don't get the news we do, also inform us that the mail they send out is censored, plus the fact that the press across the USA has been screaming for months about the Communist scare, I say let us take invoice, because the war is about to go on from where we stopped.

World War II was simply a continuation of World War I, and World War III that is almost here, is simply a continuation of the big game, in other words, the third quarter. The fourth quarter, or end, is really going to be something to write about, but who's going to be left to write it is something else.

There are two sides to every story. Let us try to present both sides. In the first place, two ideologies now exist—our system we call Democracy, and the other Communism. We know only our side. When Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill met at Yalta, certain promises were evidently made to Stalin. What Roosevelt with full approval of Churchill promised, we do not know, as neither the British nor American people were consulted. However, when the mess was dumped into Truman's lap, he must have found out that certain promises could not be kept, so to the best of his vacillating way, he tried to straighten this out with no luck, so here we are. Now, where any public servant, be he president or other, gets the power to promise certain things without taking us, the American people, into confidence, is something I don't understand, because we pay the bills, our sons do the dying. As I see it now, the USA is in the shape of an old milk cow about to go dry. She was a wonderful producer in her way, but the end is in sight.

So the result is we now accept the fact of another war as inevitable, and blindly go along hearing someone say—let's drop an atom bomb on them and finish them off. The idea that because we have the atom bomb we are invincible is something no one but a fool has. If you do not see it, let me explain. An atom bomb to be effective must be dropped where it will do some damage. The fellow who says drop it is not going to have to do it. It will be some boys in the air service who will be the goats in this. We as a nation are not the sort of people who can do these things without any warning. That's where the other side has the advantage. The USSR covers something close to 10,000,000 square miles, their nerve centers are far in the interior, so our planes to drop these bombs are going to have a long trip. So they start out with a load. Did you ever hear of radar? Well, the Russians have it too. Also they have a fast fighter plane called the Stormovik. The radar picks up our planes long before they get to their destination, a flock of these Russian planes go to meet them and see that they go no farther. Result, some of our best blood spilled on Russian snow.

Our Navy! Fine, but just where can our Navy hit Russia and do any damage? Russian history shows she has always let her enemies come to her and exhaust themselves on her vast reaches. This will be no exception. We have an active fifth column here who will be more than happy to leave a suitcase here and there filled with deadly germs that may cause us to have some severe head aches or belly aches, ending in the cemetery. Also, the knowledge gained by the Germans in submarine warfare is now Russian property. Our largest cities are sea ports. Just what Russian seaport could we hit that would cripple Russia?

Summing the situation up, we have spent close to two billion dollars in Italy, to sell them our ideas, against some ten millions the Russians have spent, and what have we gained?

What has the seven hundred million we spent in Greece gained us? In short, they have made us look silly every place. We can't begin to match them in manpower, so it's time we used statesmanship.

Let us have the facts of what went on at Tehran and Yalta. Then for a change let's stop playing the other fellow's game, let's quit pulling the other guy's chestnuts out of the fire. Then, if we must fight, draft everything. Take the profit out of this organized mass murder. It may help, providing there's anything left to help, when this is

May Day Festival In El Monte Park

This year, the week of April 25-30 has been designated as California Public Schools Week. During this period the attention of the citizens of California, in general, and of Lakeside in particular, will be focused on the public schools program. At least once during the week, and oftener, if possible, E. M. Walker, district superintendent, urges each parent and patron of our schools to visit a school in the district.

"Lakeside Union School will hold open house throughout the week," he says, "and we are looking forward to visits from as many parents and friends as can possibly find time to come. The theme of the week will be 'Our Children at Work and at Play.'"

As a culmination of this theme a revival of the traditional Lakeside Community School picnic at El Monte Park which had to be discontinued during the war years is planned.

The picnic, which will be held Friday, April 30, will be accompanied by a May Day Festival, complete with May Pole ceremonies, the crowning of a May Queen, May Day Games, etc. It is expected that, as in days of old, the community will be well represented at El Monte Park for the occasion. Watch the Star for additional information as to plans and program.

Ronald Wade Proves To Be Super Salesman

Lakeside has discovered it has a super salesman in the person of Ronald Wade, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wade of Winter Gardens.

In a contest to sell memberships for the Civic Corporation, Ronald came up with 33, far ahead of his nearest competitor. Introducing him at the Fireman's Ball last Thursday evening, C. Rupert Linley announced that the youth turned thumbs down on the free airplane trip to Los Angeles. He asked, instead, to be given the first prize money in cash so he could buy a fish pole and reel. He was given the $15 in cash.

As a result of Ronald's salesmanship, the 4-H Club took first place over the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts as the organization selling the most memberships. The club was also given $15.

In excess of 60 new members were added to the Civic Corporation as a result of the drive for additional support for Lakeside's Volunteer Fire Department.

Approximately $150 was added to the fireman's fund as the result of the dance, according to Mr. Linley, secretary of the Lakeside Civic Corporation.

Mr. Linley was master of ceremonies in the place of Cyril Houlihan, called away from Lakeside by a death in the family.

The Watkins Bake-Sweet Shop "cakewalk cake" was won by Mr. Kline of Lakeside Farms.

Mrs. Wilbert Palmer won the $5 prize for best-decorated cake. Mrs. George Miller took second place.

Bill Chilvers called the turns for a square dance.

New Store Building For South Main Street

A building permit for a new two-story building for Lakeside was taken out this week by Mrs. Catherine P. Griffiths. Both stores are being built for clients. The building, 32 x 30, will be built on a lot south of the Quaint Shop. It will be divided into quarters for two stores of approximately 16 x 30 ft. each.

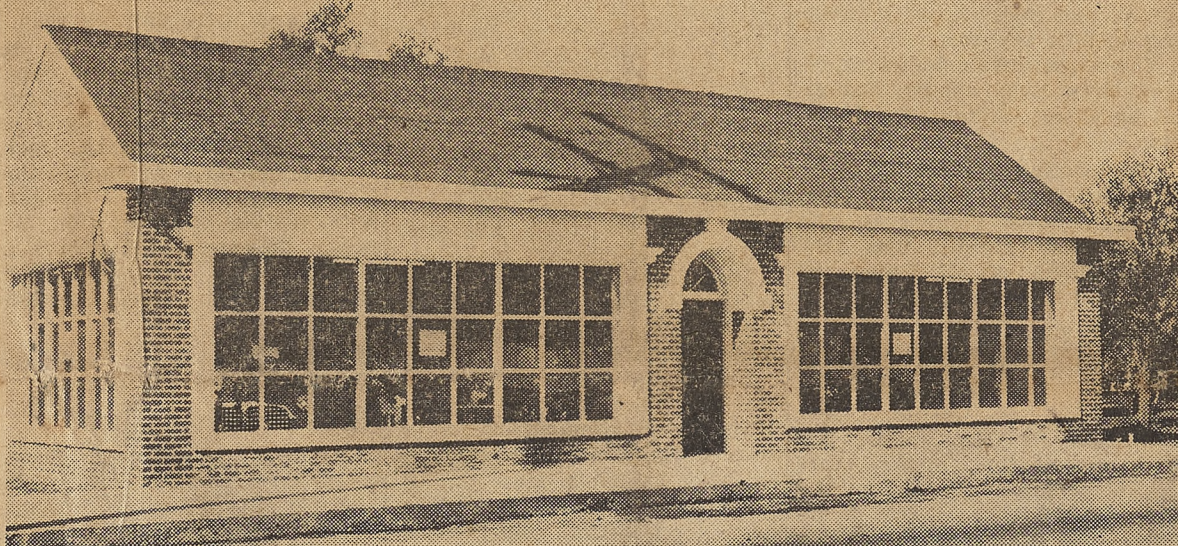

Two stately palm trees on the site were given to Mrs. Esther Williams who purchased the Tregg property in Winter Gardens. Mrs. Williams has engaged professional tree movers to transfer the trees to her property for the sum of $300.

Mrs. Griffiths has also begun building a 10 x 18 ft. addition to the Quaint Shop, to provide a storeroom for that firm, recently purchased by Mrs. Harold Kaufman.

over. In short, get down to earth and do some sane thinking.

(Ed. Note.—The opinions expressed above are not necessarily those of the Lakeside Star.)

HOME IN LAKESIDE FOR WILLYS JEeps AND AUTOMOBILES

The Lakeside Motors Garage, pictured above, this week became the home for the Willys Manufacturing Company line of automobiles, jeeps and trucks.

Arthur Edwards, proprietor, opened this modern, well-equipped garage in January of 1947.

The garage showroom will remain open evenings until 9 o'clock. A Willys jeep is now on display. They are available for immediate delivery. Mr. Edwards announces. Numerous Jeep attachments are also said to be available.

BUSINESS NEWS ESCROW COMPANY QUALIFIES UNDER NEW STATE LAW

Complying with all requirements of the new California Escrow Act, the Foothill Escrow Co. of Lakeside has been issued a State license.

Provisions of the act require the posting of a bond as prescribed by the corporation commissioner, an annual licensing fee and regular audits by a certified public accountant.

Mrs. Edna March, manager of the Foothill Escrow Co., was employed as an escrow officer in San Diego and Lakeside for 20 years. Before coming to San Diego county she served two terms as justice of the peace of Fall River county, South Dakota.

WATER ANALYSIS FREE

An analysis of water in private wells will be furnished free of charge by the Stover Company of St. Charles, Ill., which maintains one laboratory at Los Angeles and another at Modesto.

Using filters and minerals, Stover water softeners remove hardness, iron and sediment. The Stover line is being handled locally by the Lakeside Radio and Electric Service.

Among other power tools in his cabinet shop on Julian ave., Carl Stolp has a machine for filing hand saws.

George Lindsay Leaves On Exploration Trip

George Lindsay left Monday on the 45-ft. ketch "Marviento" for a month's cruise to Guadalupe Island. The botanical research party will study flora of the island. The expedition is headed by Reid Moran of Santa Monica, botanist with the Santa Barbara Botanical Gardens.

Mrs. Myrtle Buckel left Tuesday morning for a two-day visit with her mother in San Bernardino.

Windsor Bean Thrives On Our Winter Climate

A green bean that finds the winter climate of Lakeside much to its liking has been discovered by Grover E. Philbrook of Winter Gardens.

It is the Windsor, a large-podded bean, similar to the Lima.

Mr. Philbrook planted a few hills early last fall, as an experiment. They came into production two weeks ago and the vines are loaded with beans, he says. Besides being frost resistant, Mr. Philbrook found the plants to be sturdy, requiring no support and only a reasonable amount of water.

He plans to increase the planting to an eighth acre next fall.

FIRE CHIEF HUGO CLAPP GIVEN HISTORIC HELMET

A metal fire helmet, filled with beautiful flowers, was presented to Fire Chief Hugo Clapp at the Fireman's Ball, Thursday evening. The helmet, a relic of the disastrous Chicago fire was presented to Mr. Clapp by Helen Martin of El Monte Valley. She explained that the helmet was given to her father, Frank A. Martin, by a retired Chicago fire lieutenant. The hat had belonged to his grandfather, who had helped to fight the fire. He and his father and grandfather had all been lieutenants in the Chicago fire department.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, Star:

Are our public servants, holding high offices in this country in their right mind? They seem to be running around in a circle, afraid of their shadow.

If the countries of Europe choose a communistic form of government, I fail to see where our dollars can stop them. Also, why are we supposed to go to war with Russia? Don't they know that if we did, we would have to fight alone? England has stated in event of another war she would remain neutral. We do know that a decadent country like England, living on relief, would be of little use to either side.

Why are not the women and the churches of this country aware of this danger, and do something to prevent another war? They must surely know that in the event of such a conflict, thousands of our boys would freeze to death in a land covered with ice and snow. We know what happened to Napoleon and Hitler—G. M. PERRY.

SOMETIMES SWEET,
SOMETIMES SOUR,
BUT NEVER BITTER.

Life is short—too short to get everything. Chose you must, and as you choose, choose only the best—in friends, in books, in recreation, in everything.

The secret of success is to work eight hours a day without worry. Then you'll soon get to be the boss, and have to work twelve hours a day, and worry all night.

It is no disgrace to be poor—but that is the only good thing I can say about poverty at this writing.

Strange how tastes change. Little girls like painted dolls, while small boys prefer soldiers. Later in life the girls like soldiers better and the boys choose the painted dolls.

The clerk at the airport returned to sell the intoxicant a ticket on the plane because he was intoxicated, whereupon the spiffed individual drew himself up with much dignity and said: "Lister, Mitten. I've only had tee mortoonis, and I'm not as much under the affluence of inkohol as some thinkle may penk, but the drunker I stand here the longer I get."

A surgeon oughta to know his stuff. He has inside information.

The poorest solo we can imagine is to hear a man sing his own praise.

A bachelor is a man who has been crossed in love, and a married man is one who has been double crossed.

The only time I ever saw a company of women who were perfectly silent was when someone asked which of those present was the oldest.

VERSE, WORSE

The horse and mule live thirty years,
And nothing know of wine and beers.

The goat and sheep at twenty die,
And never taste of Scotch and rye.

The cows drink water by the ton
And at eighteen are mostly done.
The dog at fifteen catches in
Without the aid of rum and gin.
The cat in milk and water soaks
And then at twelve short years it croaks.

The modest, sober, bone-dry hen
Lays eggs for noggs, then dies at ten.

But sinful, ginful, rum-soaked men
Survive for three score years and ten.

FIVE THINGS TO LEARN

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine. When you smile or laugh, your brain for the moment is freed from the load that it ordinarily carries.

Learn to tell a helpful story. A well-told story is as wholesome and as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room.

Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to linger over your ills and sorrows.

Learn to stop croaking. If you cannot see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.

Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to be bothered with any of yours.

It's not what you'd do with a million.

If riches should ever be your lot.

But what you are doing at present,
With the dollar and a quarter you've got.

Meanwhile, his erstwhile partner, Fred, reads in a newspaper how Bill has found a valuable gold nugget, and he sets out for the San Domingo to claim a "partner's" share. Before he arrives, however, two friends of Bill come with a proposition, also Bill's claim yields a gold nugget. Value: $2.50.

"Come on in fellows," William said as he pulled back the flap of his tent. Take the cot there; I'll sit on this powder-box."

Pierce sat down, mopping the sweat from his face. To a person not used to the desert, the weather was really warm.

"Here is the whole thing in a nutshell, Billie," said Pierce. "If we can invent a machine that will concentrate base or refractory ore by the use of air instead of water or oil, we can work mines like the Swanson. A gas engine will furnish the power to crush and mill the ore. There is water enough to use for cooling purposes and camp use. What do you think, lad. Can it be done?"

"I have thought about that myself. It might be done, but I don't know. There is a lot we will have to work out."

Mr. Boles spoke up. "We know you can do it if anyone can and we want you to come into town and go to work on the idea. We will furnish everything you need and help you all we can. I will turn my shop over to you. If any other tools and machinery are needed, we will get them."

"That sounds mighty good, but I'll have to think it over; I can't possibly leave the desert right now."

"What would the young lady think if she heard you call her 'the desert'?"

"Call what?—Oh, I see, you think Miss Davis is my reason for wanting to stay here. Well, in a way, she is. They are so green, I sure would hate to leave them out here by themselves. They would starve to death, my pronto! Besides, they expect me to teach them how to find gold. Great Scott! Can you imagine that?"

"We'll see that you get a good salary and if we get a patent, and ever sell any rights or machines, you will get a royalty. What do you say?"

"Only that I'll have to stay here awhile. But this will be a good quiet place to think. I'll put in my spare time working out my ideas. That's the most I can promise, gentlemen. I'm sorry."

"If that's the way you want it, lad. We have the paper and a pocket-sized drawing set with us. I'll loan you my portable typewriter, too."

"Yes, and a drawing board, too."

"Well—Partner." Mr. Pierce held out his hand, with a smile. Now we will have to be on our way. Write us whenever you can, and let us know how you are getting along."

Mr. Boles had been writing while listening. "Here you are, Johnson. This is your first month's salary."

Bill absent-mindedly accepted the check and tucked it into his pocket. With a wave of their hands his friends were gone.

Day-dreaming, Bill watched their car disappear down the road between the willows and the salton cedars. Then he entered his canvas home and spread out the things his friends had given him. Suddenly remembering the check, he took the small pale green slip of paper from his pocket.

"Whoo—oo—ee!" A hundred and fifty dollars," he said softly. "It never rains but it pours. Talk about poor folks turning rich! First I find a big nugget, then the sweetest girl in all the world happens along—then this!"

His heart almost lost a beat as two small hands were softly and snugly placed over his eyes.

"What were you saying about the sweetest girl in all the world?" Then Bess discovered the things on the cot. "What is all this? Look at the little typewriter! Isn't it darling!"

Before answering, Bill pulled her slightly resisting arms down over his shoulders and crossed her small soft wrists under his chin.

"I'll give you three guesses, you little witch, you."

"Billie! Let me go! Lunch will be getting cold, and—"

"Wait a sec! You think I didn't notice the pretty dress and the ribbons. Well, I did and I am going to—"

But the voice of her father was compelling:

"Din—ner! Come on to dinner!"

Soon they were seated around their noon day meal.

Bessie was in a mood for banter.

"Dad, there is more to this young man than meets the eye. When I went to call him to lunch there was a little typewriter on his bed. He may be a writer, or something or other incognito. I believe he's holding out on us."

"Could be," Bill replied lightly. "By the way, Bessie, you seem so interested in the portable. Do you know how to use one?"

"I was about half way through a typing course when we left town. I can write about 45 words a minutes. Why?"

"It looks like I'm going to need a secretary. What do you say?"

"I'm just a poor old prospector trying to get along," the girl said playfully, "but if I can be convinced this opportunity—"

"My friends who just left want me to help them work out

Mrs. Elizabeth Sellers spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Otto Eickhoff.

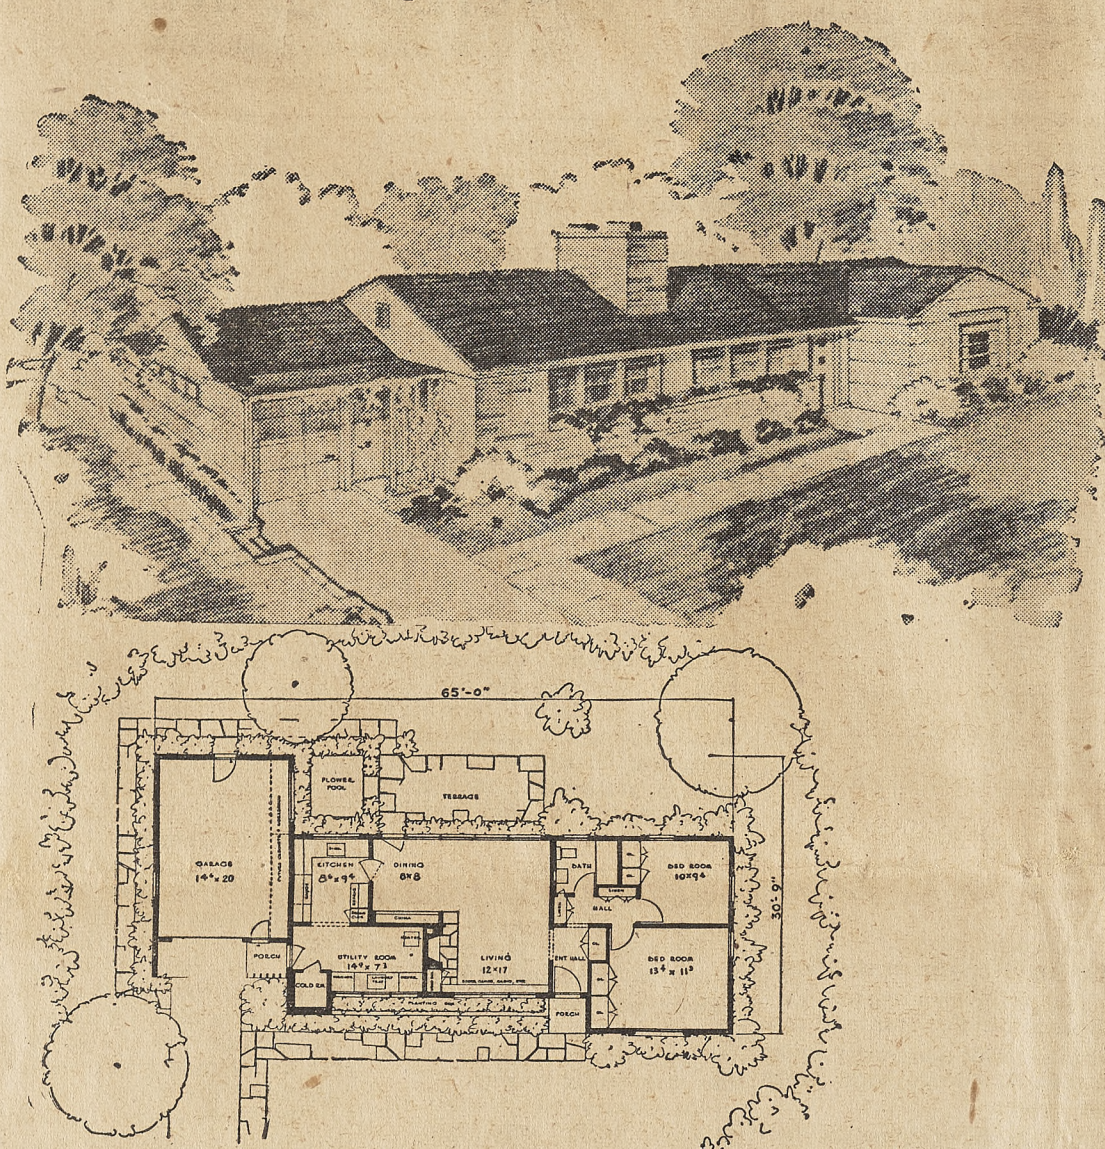

Mrs. Robert Watkins flew to Los Angeles Tuesday morning on a four day visit with her brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brown of Campo were Sunday visitors at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walker left this week in their trailer for a week's fishing trip to the Colorado River. Another couple joined them for the trip.

Minerva T. Baker attended the North Park S. D. A. Church Saturday morning. Returning to Lakeside with her was Mrs. Frances Ross, a teacher in the S. D. A. Union Academy, and choir director of the North Park Church. Later in the day, Arthur W. Russell of the New Mexico State Teachers College, Silver City, N. M., showed many beautiful gem stones, in the rough and polished forms; also those set in sterling silver mountings.

Simple Exterior Home

The exterior of this home has been designed with simplicity. The long ledger rock faced flower box and low roof lines accent the horizontal feeling. A beautiful fireplace, built-in cabinets, book shelves and china-cabinet are features of the L-shaped living-dining area. The compact kitchen and laundry arrangement provides free floor area for children's activities. The cold room could be an extra lavatory if desired. The house comprises 970 square feet, excluding garage.

Dwelling shown above is a photograph of a scale model of a "cut-out" home which can be obtained from House Beautiful Magazine for $2.00. The model is easily assembled, and gives the prospective home builder an actual model of the home he plans to build, complete with "cut-out" furniture.

By studying the scale model, the prospective builder is enabled to determine what changes he deems necessary before the house is actually built, thereby saving needless expense.

Blueprints and specifications of the dwelling shown above can be obtained for $5 per set by writing House Beautiful Magazine, 572 Madison Avenue, New York City 22, New York.

Christian Science Topic Denies Reality of Death

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" This question will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation."

In his Sermon on the Mount, as recorded by Matthew, Jesus says, "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, . . . Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? . . . A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. . . And . . . the people were astonished at his doctrine: For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes." Luke's Gospel reports, "Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact, proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness, and death are beliefs—illusory errors—which he could and did destroy."

Wednesday evening Service 8 p.m.
A cordial invitation extended to all to attend the services.

Bob Macy Returns

To Klamath Falls

Bob Macy, accompanied by his father, Elmer Macy, left Lakeside Sunday for Klamath Falls and Bob's new homestead in Copie Bay, formerly the center of Tule Lake.

The government has drained the lake and the reclaimed land is now supplied with irrigation water from upper Klamath Lake.

Bob is patterning this year's farming on his 72 acres after his brother's agricultural success last year with brewer's barley.

Elmer Macy will be away for approximately six weeks.

Purely Personal

Mrs. Nellie A. Barton of Hollywood arrived in Lakeside last week for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. MacLean. Mrs. Barton is the mother of Mrs. MacLean.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Z. Rebman of Mobile, Ala., plan to return to their home the first of next week. They have been visiting his brother, J. G. Rebman of Cajon rd.

Bill Barker and Bob Macy brought 80 sacks of russet potatoes from Tule Lake to Lakeside, arriving here last Wednesday night. The trip will be repeated in another month.

J. J. March, of Hot Springs, South Dakota and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. March, of Cambridge, Minn., are visitors at the Leonard March Ranch on Oak dr., Lakeside Farms.

Wilbert W. Palmer has started construction of a two-bedroom home on Orange st., adjacent to the new home recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Finch.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. de Burn, a son, Robert Arlan, at La Mesa Hospital, 10:07 Tuesday, April 7. Wt., 7 lbs., 11 oz. "All parties doing famously," is the report of the proud grandparent, Raynor de Burn.

George Deering from Massachusetts, who has been here for a few weeks visiting his brother, Cecil Deering, left Thursday, taking Cecil with him to visit their other brother, Edon, at Santa Ana.

Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Mary Kalstrom were Dr. and Mrs. George Parmenter of Petoskey, Mich. They have been spending the winter in San Diego. Mrs. Kalstrom and Mr. and Mrs. Parmenter attended the same church in Petoskey 37 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Morris left April 7 to visit their daughter, Mrs. W. L. Cullison of Dallas, Tex.; then on to Mrs. Morris's sister in Houston. They will also visit their youngest daughter in Fort Worth, returning to Lakeside in about a month.

Arthur W. Russell of Silver City, N. M., and his brother, Gilbert Russell, attended a family reunion Sunday in Pacific Beach, honoring the 92nd birthday of a third brother, Murray Russell. Arthur Russell is taking a course in arts and crafts at New Mexico State Teachers College. He was here for a visit.

Arthur M. Edwards, special events chairman of the Chamber, urges all residents of the Lakeside Irrigation District to take part in the spring drive to "Paint-up, Clean-up, Fix-up" Lakeside.

A special film trailer, 2 1/2 min. in length, has been ordered and will be shown at the Lakeside Theater. The film has for its theme the spring clean-up drive.

This campaign means more than cleaning up rubbish. It will improve living conditions and contribute to better health and safety. It will enhance and protect beauty values.

Three prizes will be awarded winning property owners, as follows:

- First prize—$25.
- Second prize—$15.
- Third prize—$10.

Residents of Lakeside are urged to fill out the accompanying coupon and take part in the contest.
